Your Family's Adventure Into Homeschooling and Liberty Begins February 1st!

Are you ready to imagine a new life for your family?

FREE TO LET YOUR KIDS LEARN NATURALLY AS THEY ENGAGE WITH LIFE?

Get ready to witness your kids blossom, as they free themselves from constraints of modern day public schooling, free from constant testing, free from peer pressure and safe in a loving learning environment, to follow their interests, study at their own pace and truly understand the world around them.

Well look no further! There are less than a few days to go to the launch of The Homeschooling and Liberty Summit, where 28 leading lights in the world of Homeschooling, Self-Directed Education and Entrepreneurship will guide you through the highs and hurdles of taking your kid out of traditional government schooling, to live a life of creativity and joy. Our first talk, with the one and only Dr. Ron Paul, will be sent to your inbox on February 1st with one talk released daily throughout February.

The free on-line summit includes:

- Reflections on how our guests look back on their time in school and what could have been done better.
- How the government model of schooling is not designed to raise creative, self reliant and inspired children.
- Reassurance that if you are at all unhappy with your child's learning environment, you ARE ready to start this journey. It doesn't need to be overwhelming or undertaken alone, with a plethora of online resources and like minded families just a click away.
- The endless possibilities available to let kids create their own path through manifesting their innate curiosity and intrinsic motivation.
- Ideas about the future of education. How self-directed education is proving again and again that learning can never truly happen from any external motivation.
- Practical steps when approaching the idea of taking your children out of compulsory schooling, to live a life of creativity and joy.

These talks are about 20 minutes each to inspire you to look at not what IS but what COULD BE, for YOU and YOUR FAMILY.
